

Expectations

Expectations

The expectations are standardised for all chairs; however, certain traits may be more important in certain committees (such as ESL and crisis committees). The SEAMUN I chair's expectations are as follows:

- 1) Individuals are expected to be diplomatic by:
 - a) Maintaining a neutral stance on the issue for the duration of the conference
 - b) Respecting all opinions and contributions by being mindful of the reactions to delegate participation
- 2) Individuals are expected to maintain professionalism by:
 - a) Keeping physical contact with other attendees to an absolute minimum
 - b) Using respectful, considerate, accurate, and relevant language
 - c) CRISIS ONLY: Centring the crises around realistic challenges that could happen at any point. Refraining from the incorporation of celebrities
- 3) Individuals are expected to be impartial through:
 - a) Not showing any preference or distaste for any delegate/s, chair/s, or SMT
 - b) Providing everyone with the same level of high-quality support
 - c) Using evidence to justify awards to the SMT
 - d) Producing feedback with personalised comments to all delegates after the conference
- 4) Individuals are expected to be engaging by:
 - a) Utilising in-committee breaks to re-energise the room and make an effort to specifically support neurodivergent delegates
 - b) Promoting unique ideas and suggesting pathways and perspectives to consider (including counter-arguments)
 - c) CRISIS ONLY: Portraying realistic and constructive crises to manipulate debate and strengthen arguments
- 5) Individuals are expected to be calm by:
 - a) Addressing any misconduct with logic and empathy without allowing for emotional influence
 - b) Minimising the use of yelling by both chairs and delegates
 - c) Adhering to the provided conduct management system
- 6) Individuals are expected to be creative by:
 - a) Promoting unique solutions
 - b) Preparing and initiating icebreakers
 - c) CRISIS ONLY: Preparing and conducting various unique and appropriate crises and press conferences to understand the rapid development of issues
- 7) Individuals are expected to be empathetic by:
 - a) Listening actively to delegates and other attendees
 - b) Taking into account any personal information shared in confidence
- 8) Individuals are expected to be passionate about:
 - a) Producing a high-quality and in-depth chair report for the committee
 - b) Holding RoP meetings and eagerly engaging with delegates before and during the conference

- c) Utilising their own knowledge of the subject to guide delegates and redirect them if necessary
- 9) Individuals are expected to be decisive by:
 - a) Serving as a tie-breaker vote when needed
 - b) Determining when behaviour is inappropriate and requires intervention
 - c) CRISIS ONLY: Selecting an outcome for crises
- 10) Individuals are expected to be welcoming by:
 - a) Equally engaging with delegates and greeting all attendees
 - b) Implementing given or unique icebreakers
 - c) Encouraging pre-conference introductions
- 11) Individuals are expected to be punctual by:
 - a) Arriving on time to all sessions
 - b) Prioritizing individual arrival over group punctuality
- 12) Individuals are expected to be encouraging by:
 - a) Offering feedback often
 - b) Providing an individualised meeting before the conference
 - c) Engaging respectfully and enthusiastically to promote delegate participation
- 13) Individuals are expected to be accountable by:
 - a) Apologizing and acknowledging when a mistake is made
 - b) Rectifying any mistakes as soon as possible
 - c) Avoiding ego protection mechanisms to promote impartiality and high-standards for all
- 14) Individuals are expected to:
 - a) Follow all given rules and any additional mandates described via email or the Instagram group chat

Misconduct

Misconduct

The definitions of misconduct are as follows, but are not representative of all boundaries, and all attendees are subject to SMT rulings, which are also held to a standard of impartiality and empathy:

- 1) Individuals are not permitted to access:
 - a) Any part of the campus not specifically designated for the conference
(VERBAL WARNING)
 - b) Any non-designated bathrooms (eg, adult toilets may not be used by students)
(VERBAL WARNING)
- 2) Individuals are not permitted to use:
 - a) Profanity for the duration of committee sessions (WARNING)
 - b) Other languages other than English during committee sessions (does NOT apply to ESL committees) (VERBAL WARNING)
 - c) AI (in relation to the topics at hand) from the start of the opening ceremony until the end of the closing ceremony (does NOT apply to chairs or SMT)
(WARNING → STRIKE)
- 3) Individuals are not permitted to:
 - a) Contact other delegates regarding the topics at hand (pre-lobbying) – contacting other delegates regarding RoP questions or general MUN questions is permitted but discouraged; please direct such questions to the SMT or chairs if possible.
(VERBAL WARNING)
 - b) Film or capture anyone without explicit consent including during “silly” committee sessions – all content is to be made by the media and photography team (does NOT apply to photographers) (WARNING → STRIKE)
 - c) Proposing war in any committees other than the UNSC and DISEC
(VERBAL WARNING)
 - d) Engaging in PDA (as defined in this tab) (VERBAL WARNING)
 - e) Tease, bully, or make fun of any individual at the conference, including staff and on-campus support (WARNING → STRIKE)

All incidents are subject to investigation by either the chairs or the SMT, and advisors if necessary. Warnings will not be directly given unless witnessed by a chair, SMT, or advisors to prevent bias. All incidents will be directly addressed with the delegate and reporting delegate during the most appropriate moment (during break times only, unless the breach is extreme)

PDA

Public Display of Affection (PDA)

PDA or public display of affection is NOT defined as:

- 1) Couples engaging in any non-sexual acts, including;
 - a) Kissing/Pecking
 - b) Hugging
 - c) Holding hands

PDA or public display of affection is defined as:

- 1) Couples engaging in any sexual acts, including;
 - a) French kissing/making out
 - b) Grinding
 - c) Provocative movements

Any breaches will result in a warning; appealing via the SMT is possible if deemed reasonable by the chairs

Conduct Management System

Disciplinary System: Warnings and Strikes

To support the learning process while maintaining order, SEAMUN I utilises a tiered disciplinary system:

1. Verbal warnings: Delegates receive up to two verbal warnings for minor infractions
 - a. Following
2. Warnings: Delegates receive up to three warnings for impactful breaches of conduct.
 - a. Strike 1: Following three warnings, a delegate receives their first strike and loses all voting rights for the remainder of the session. (DQ)
 - b. Strike 2: A second strike results in a suspension of speaking rights in formal sessions. (DQ)
 - c. Strike 3: A third strike results in the immediate removal of the delegate from the committee and, potentially, from the conference premises. (DQ)
 - i. Results in a permanent ban on attending SEAMUN conferences.
